FIFTEEN PEOPLE KILLED.

Shocking Railroad Wreck in Isolated District of Maine.

Bangor, Me., July 23.—Fifteen persons are reported killed in a head-on collision late tonight between a crowded excursion train on the Bangor and Aroostook railroad and the midnight train from Van Buren to Bangor. Thirty or forty people are known to have been injured and it is thought several others are beneath the wreckage.

The collision took place just outside the Grindstone station, seven miles north of Millinocket, and 80 miles north of Bangor.

A special train was rushed from this city shortly after midnight with surgeon and medical supplies and nurses. It was expected it would take two hours for it to reach the scene of the wreck.

The excursion train was bound from Kidders Point on the Penobscot bay, near Searsport for points in northern Maine. The train was late and was reported at the time of the crash to have been moving at a good rate of speed.

It is not known what caused the accident. A heavy storm prevailed throughout Maine tonight and it is believed that the thick weather conditions had much to do with the disaster.

The smoking car of the excursion train was next to the engine and was telescoped by the tender. All the passengers in this car, most of whom were members of the Presque Isle band, are reported killed or badly wounded.

Engineer F. W. Garcelon of the excursion train was instantly killed.

Engineer William Orr of the regular was found badly hurt.

Both firemen are missing. Grindstone, the place where the wreck occurred, is a small hamlet containing only 42 inhabitants. It is buried deep in the woods with no facilities of any kind for the care of the dead or wounded, except through the hospitality of the backwoods people.

College Concert.

The concert to be given Tuesday evening, August 8, at the town hall, although of high class, will be distinctly popular in character.

The chorus, of about sixty voices, is composed of those attending the summer session of Middlebury college, pupils of the High school and other local singers, assisted by a number of our leading choir singers. The choruses selected are bright and pleasing, and the enthusiastic rehearsals insure an excellent showing. For the final number the audience will join the chorus in singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

The chorus is fortunate in having the assistance of the young pianiste, Miss Florian Shepard, daughter of the musical director of the summer session.

When a child of eleven Miss Shepard played with great success before an audience of seven thousand at the Ocean Grove, N. J., auditorium. In the boy soprano, Ford Hastings, from Hartford, Conn., who is only ten years old, will be found almost a phenomenal singer. His voice is unusually high and clear and he sings with remarkable ease. A sketch of the program follows:

Chorus, a. Anchored, Watson
b. Sweet and Low, Barnby
Piano, Peer Gyt Suite, Grieg
Miss Shepard.
Chorus, a. Lost Chord, Sullivan
b. All Through the Night, Old Welsh

Utterly Wretched

Nervous Prostration Long Endured Before Remedy was Found.

Miss Minerva Reminger, Upper Barn, Pa., writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration, and was utterly wretched. I lived on bread and beef tea because my stomach would not retain anything else. I took many remedies, but obtained no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, when I began to gain at once. Am now cured."

Pure, rich blood makes good, strong nerves, and this is why Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and enriches the blood, cures so many nervous diseases. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

The College and the People.

The spirit of public service is becoming more and more an actuating principle of educational institutions. Where formerly the service was local in nature and extent one now finds the service extended to the doors of the people. More people attend institutions of higher education than ever before, but student enrollment is not the whole measure of college service.

One of the most salutary means of broadening college service is the movement called college extension which has met with marked success in many parts of the West. The beginning of a systematic extension of the college to people remote from college centers was made in Vermont last year when Dean Walter E. Howard organized college extension lecture courses to be given by members of the faculty of Middlebury college.

The movement was well received by the people from the first and there were calls for above sixty lectures in all parts of the state. The courses will be continued this year by Prof. Raymond McFarland, who announces an attractive list of speakers and lectures. The plan is to give the lectures in groups of five, no lecturer appearing twice in a course.

Twenty-five subjects are offered from the fields of history, biography, literature, education, sociology and travel. The courses are conducted under the auspices of the school, the grange, the church and literary clubs, in either case the best thought of the college finds an avenue for reaching the people.

Live Wire Kills Boy.

George King, a 10-year-old boy, residing in Bristol, was killed Wednesday afternoon by coming in contact with a live wire. The boy had climbed a tree which stood in front of the house of his grandfather, George Orent, of North street. An electric wire passed through the branches of the tree, and the boy accidentally touched this wire with his foot. The contact gave him a severe shock so that he started to fall. He grasped the wire with his hand and then his neck fell upon it. The boy's body fell to the ground, a distance of 10 or 12 feet. When it was picked up the right leg and the head were found to have been nearly severed from the trunk. The boy's parents separated several years ago and his mother is now living in Boston. The boy has made his home with his grandparents in Bristol.

District Meeting Probably Held Here.

At the meeting of Attawanna Rebeekah lodge, No. 15, I. O. O. F., held in Odd Fellows' hall, one young lady was admitted to membership by initiation. A literary entertainment followed the meeting, which was much enjoyed by all. The lodge has gained a good membership this season and everything points to a bright future. The district meeting is to be held here some time this fall or winter and one of the lodges in the district will be called upon to exemplify the degree. The members were informed that the office of district deputy was vacant at present and that one of its members would be selected to fill the vacancy. The lodge is desirous of receiving applications from young ladies that they may have one of the largest lodges in the State.
